At Clayden Law we advise global businesses that buy and sell technology products and services. It’s what we do day-in-day-out. So, unlike many other law firms:We only advise technology and tech-enabled businesses.We advise them on a full range of technology, data protection (including GDPR), digital content, cybersecurity, commercial and intellectual property law matters.Our technology lawyers have a particular expertise in working with SaaS, RegTech and Workplace Solutions businesses as they start-up, scale and secure investment.We’re experts in these fields, with practical experience to back it up.We’re obsessive about staying ahead of the market and changes in the law, so you get the best, most up to the minute advice.This specialist approach has established us as a recognised alternative to mid-tier, generalist firms, for those that want truly expert advice in technology, data protection, digital content, cybersecurity, commercial and intellectual property law matters.
